Heavy rain and hail fell in Wallace County Wednesday, May 10 around 5:00 p.m. The water started to run faster and faster down the streets, flooding out some areas. Second Street and several areas where the water was running so heavy and fast it made it difficult to traverse. The flooding didn't last long but the rain continued to fall all through the next day. In town wasn't the only place that the rain flooded out. In the country there were places where the creek overflowed and ran across the roads.

County farmer directs "America's Farmers Grow Communities" donation to Weskan Schools

Wallace County Farmer Abby Myers has won the opportunity to direct a $2,500 dollar donation from the America's Farmers Grow Communities program, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, to Weskan Schools.

Weskan Schools will use the funds to help implement our newly formed Comprehensive Ag Program.

"Weskan Schools is very appreciative of the generosity of the Monsanto Fund and to local farmer Abby Myers for her generous donation," said Dave Hale, Weskan Schools Superintendent.

The Grow Communities program's purpose is to make a positive impact in farm communities by partnering with farmers to support the causes that are important to them in their communities. Each year, farmers enter for a chance to win a $2,500 donation that they direct to a local nonprofit. Since the program began in 2010, farmers have directed more than $26 million in donations across a broad cross-section of organizations that reflect the makeup and character of rural America, including food banks, emergency response organizations, schools, youth agriculture programs and many others.

"Farmers have directed funds to more than 8,000 community organizations across rural America since Grow Communities began," said Al Mitchell, Monsanto Fund president. "Farmers are truly committed to this program because they see the difference the donation makes in their community."
